Accountability Ratings

Texas Education Agency

The Texas Education Agency annually rates Texas public school districts and individual schools and then awards the following ratings: Exemplary, Recognized, Academically Acceptable or Academically Unacceptable.

The ratings are based upon student performance in reading, writing, mathematics, science and social studies on the Texas Assessment of Knowledge & Skills tests during the 2007-2008 school year, school completion data for the class that graduated in 2007 (high school level) and dropout data (middle school level) from the 2006-2007 school year. Within each subject, test scores are evaluated in the following categories: all students, African-American, Hispanic, white, and economically disadvantaged.

Facilities

Students attend classes in air-conditioned schools complete with cafeterias, libraries and gymnasiums. Several buildings have received national attention for their design.

IISD voters approved a $249.5 million bond program in October 2001. These funds are being used to provide for new construction to accommodate enrollment growth, to renovate existing schools/other facilities, to provide additional technology for instruction and support services, to improve disabled access, and to update heating, ventilation and air conditioning.

Accreditation

IISD schools are accredited by the Texas Education Agency and the high schools are also accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges & Schools Council on Accreditation & School Improvement.
