

ADDENDUM #1

It has been reported that some of the cells were locked on the response sheets. In the interest of time, we are providing the password for the locked sheets.

The password is good4you

Warning: do not change any of the static information IISD provided on the documents. Doing so may DQ your proposals. Also, you will be held to have bid the item we specified in the cells changed, regardless of your quote amount.

There are sheets for submitting substitutes and alternates to use so there is no need to alter the IISD specification in the cells.
