

Sam Houston Middle School

Letter to all students participating in extracurricular activities

Sam Houston has the greatest students in the world, and our campus staff will provide the best education every second of every day.

Congrats!

Congratulations to all students participating in extracurricular activities this year. I know each student has worked extremely hard to become a member of your specific organization. It's extremely important each student works daily achieving success in the classroom.

Role Model Behavior

If you're participating in any extracurricular activity at Sam Houston, you are a role model on the field as well as off the field. It's important you continue to represent your school, community, and your family with the highest level of character at all times especially when no adults are watching.

We want all students participating in extracurricular activities to do well and maintain academic excellence in every class every day.

Each student will be monitored by Coaches, Teachers, and Administrators to ensure each student complies with all directives listed in the student handbook.

Students with continuous discipline, grades, or attendance issues will have to meet with the Administrative team to determine if removal from any extracurricular activity is in the best interest of the school, community and the student.

Any student fighting on campus or off campus will have an immediate meeting to determine if they will be remove from the program.

-Sam Houston

A parent will be notified and given the option to attend any meeting regarding student removal from extracurricular activities for discipline problems, attendance issues, and lack of progress based on grades.

The coach or sponsor will also be a part of the decision making process during any removal from any program.

Jeffrey Dorman
Principal
Sam Houston Middle School